Eta Sigma Alpha

Eta Sigma Alpha is Georgia College's Honors Student Association. Eta Sigma Alpha organizes numerous service, social and other events and activities. All Honors students are required to join Eta Sigma Alpha and remain in good standing by participating regularly in Honors and Eta Sigma Alpha events. Students are asked to contribute $75 in their first year and $10 per year thereafter. These fees may be waived for students receiving federal financial aid and pro-rated for collegiate entry and transfer students. Fees are used to cover the cost of food for Eta Sigma Alpha events and for some events (such as Honors Convocation) jointly sponsored with the John E. Sallstrom Honors College. The fees also underwrite the cost of supplies for the coffee/tea/hot chocolate bar in the student lounge and cover the graduation banquet for graduating seniors and two family members as well as all the big events ESA will put on during your four years. ESA events are posted on the Honors GC Connect page.

Honors Events

Each semester, the Honors College offers a number of faculty-led presentations, book discussions, and film discussions. These informal "learning beyond the classroom" experiences stimulate thought and discussion and promote student-faculty interaction.

Each semester, up to two students will also be selected to serve as presenters, giving students an opportunity to learn from each other. To apply, please click here.

GC Connect Page

Membership on the GC Connect page is required for all students in the Honors College. Here you will view upcoming events and announcements as well as RSVP for events. You will also be able to view any important materials related to each event, such as a video or article you may need to read in advance.

You can access the GC Connect page through your Unify account.

Honors Points

Earning Honors Points

Students earn honors points by attending Honors events & ESA events. These events vary in point value, with most ESA events and faculty presentations worth one point, while book & film discussions are worth two. Presenting at a research conference earns you three Honors points.

Logging Honors Points

Honors points will be logged via a MS Form. A link to the Form will be distributed each semester.

Students earn a gold, silver, or bronze graduation medallion for averaging 7-10, 4-6, or 1-3 points per academic year, respectively, with appropriate adjustments made for students graduating early or studying abroad. The total number of points earned will be divided by the total number of academic years, with half a year figured as 0.5.

Probation

A probationary student whose GPA rises to 3.30 or higher will return to good standing. A probationary student whose GPA rises, but does not get to 3.30, will be placed on another semester of Honors academic probation. If a student's institutional GPA has not improved at the end of a probationary semester, then the student will be removed from the Honors College with the option to submit a written appeal for reinstatement.*

---

*The appeal letter must include a plan for improvement. Appeals will be considered by an Honors Faculty Council appeals subcommittee. At its discretion, the Honors Faculty Council appeals subcommittee may request a hearing with the student. If the institutional GPA of a readmitted student does not improve by the end of the probationary semester following reinstatement, then the student will be removed from the Honors College and no subsequent appeal will be allowed.

**Honors students found to be in violation of the Honor Code and/or the Code of Conduct may be dismissed from the program at the discretion of the dean and the Honors Faculty Council.

Honors Courses

We offer Honors sections of courses in most areas of the core curriculum. Many Honors classes are informally designated "Great Ideas" classes. These classes engage students with enduring ideas central to human thinking and existence—freedom, equality, democracy and others. These classes rely mostly on primary texts and sources, some of which are available from the Honors College Library. Honors courses are reading, writing and discussion-intensive and are designed to reflect and reinforce Georgia College's liberal arts mission.

To find a list of the courses being offered each semester, please visit our website under the courses tab.

Honors Options

Honors students may also apply to do Honors Options for Honors credit in non-Honors classes. Any regular three-hour class, including GC study abroad classes, can incorporate an Honors Option with the permission of the instructor.

These Honors Options can be done on a wide variety of topics & subjects. To create a proposal, view the form here.

For Honors Option questions, please email student assistant, Jared Reese.

Honors Capstone Options

Honors students enrolled in capstone courses for their majors may also apply to complete an Honors Capstone Option with the permission of the instructor.

The capstone option can serve as a springboard for many collegiate and post-graduate prospects. To create a proposal, view the form here.

Credit Waivers

Students cannot typically earn Honors course credit when studying abroad, completing an off-campus fulltime internship, or engaging in undergraduate research outside the bounds of fall and spring semesters. Yet these programs are the very ones that students should undertake because of their transformational value.

An Honors credit waiver will thus be awarded for institutionally recorded<sup>1</sup> (1) study abroad/study away programs,<sup>2</sup> (2) off-campus full-time internship programs, and (3) undergraduate research programs undertaken outside the bounds of fall and spring semesters (could be at GCSU or an REU or equivalent at another institution), with scope of the waiver tied to the length of the program:

<sup>2</sup> Students are not precluded from earning additional Honors credit through programs like Honors options available with faculty-led study abroad experiences, since students are doing extra work to earn those credit hours.

HONORS COLLEGE

GEORGIA COLLEGE & STATE UNIVERSITY

Credit Waivers

1-3 weeks: 1 credit waiver

3-6 weeks: 2 credit waiver

7 weeks-full semester: 3 credit waiver

This credit waiver does not apply to the minimum of 120 credit hours needed to graduate from GCSU or to the completion of a major or minor; it only applies to a student's Honors status.

Students must inform the Honors College of their participation in such programs by emailing honors@gcsu.edu. The Honors College will then verify it with the appropriate office and inform the student if the credit waiver has been confirmed.

This program was implemented in fall 2023 and applies retroactively for all currently enrolled Honors students.

Transformative Experience and Saladin Scholarship Programs

Thanks to a generous gift from Dr. Kenneth Saladin, the longstanding research conference grant program is now part a larger Transformative Experience Grant/Scholarship program. Georgia College Honors students who have maintained an institutional GPA of 3.3 or higher may apply for funds up to a cumulative total of $500 in a given academic year to support undergraduate research, internships, community-based learning, and/or study abroad. Applications are considered on a rolling basis for projects undertaken during the academic year in which the application is submitted.

Application form & additional details can be found here
