

Programs in History and Geography are doing innovative and exciting things at Georgia College! In addition to being at the heart of our liberal arts mission, providing students with career-oriented skills such as research, writing, critical thinking and analysis, we also prepare students to thrive in future careers with engaged learning in our new certificate programs in Geographic Information Science and Global Foodways Studies. Our graduates go on to rewarding jobs in museums and public history, corporate research, town planning and development as well as to graduate studies for teaching and research at leading universities around the country.

We now offer two innovative certificate programs; one in Global Foodways Studies and one in Geographic Information Science.

We are proud of:

- Small class sizes. Average of 30 or under for survey classes; 20 for upper level
- Wide range of high impact courses and internships available
- Student success in acceptance to the GCSU MAT program

The History program provides students:

- Engaged career-oriented opportunities with internships, faculty-led study abroad and undergraduate research
- A keen understanding of the connections between past and present
- A way to cultivate intellectual curiosity and enthusiasm for learning
- The power to communicate effectively in writing and speaking

For recent student engaged learning experiences see:

<https://vimeo.com/371438487>

Ranked # 5 Best Colleges for History in Georgia:

<https://www.collegefactual.com/colleges/georgia-college-and-state-university/>
<https://www.zippia.com/history-major/#best-history-colleges-in-georgia>

The Geography program provides students:

- A way to study where human and natural phenomena intersect
- A spatial perspective to analyze interactions between humans and their environment
- Career-oriented ways to synthesize social, political, historical, economic, environmental biological data
- Engaged learning opportunities with field work, internships and certifications.

For news and information about recent department activities please see our Facebook page at:

<https://www.facebook.com/GCSU-History-and-Geography-Department-163160490...>

For information about each of our programs in History and Geography including our certificates in Global Foodways Studies and Geographic Information Science please see these links:

<https://www.gcsu.edu/artsandsciences/history/history-resources>

<https://www.gcsu.edu/artsandsciences/history/geography-resources>

And for general information about the department please see:

<https://www.gcsu.edu/artsandsciences/history>

Here is a link to our faculty information and contact emails:

<https://www.gcsu.edu/artsandsciences/history/facultystaff>

Have questions or would like more information? Please contact:

Dr. Aran Mackinnon

Professor and Chair, Department of History and Geography

Georgia College & State University

aran.mackinnon@gcsu.edu

Tel. 478-445-5211

Thank you!