

Women's Faculty Fellows Leadership Program Fellow

Dr. Stefanie Sevcik is the Faculty Director of Mentored Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavors (MURACE) and a Lecturer of English. She earned a B.A. in General Literature from Reed College and a Ph.D in Comparative Literature from Brown University specializing in French, Arabic, and English literature. At GCSU, she was Faculty Champion for Community-based Engaged Learning (CbEL), a University System of Georgia Chancellor's Learning Scholar. She led a redesign of the MA in English capstone as MA Committee Chair and helped co-write a self-study on writing at GCSU as a member of the Composition Committee. She currently serves as a board member for Women's and Gender Studies and acts as a Diversity Peer Educator through the Office of Inclusive Excellence. Her research includes work on 20th and 21st Century women's resistance movements and has been published in Research in African Literatures, The Journal of the African Literature Association, and a recent collection published by Rutgers University Press titled In the Crossfire of History: Women's War Resistance Discourse in the Global South. She is currently finishing a manuscript titled Bloggers, Bombers, and Babies: Women's Creative Insurgency across the Global South. Recently, she is very active presenting and publishing work on High-impact Practices including diversifying Mentored Undergraduate Research and Critical Service-Learning.