

ACADEMIC CALENDAR Spring 2027

CALENDAR CHANGES

While changes to academic calendars are rare, circumstances occasionally require us to add additional information or modify published calendars. Rather than bookmarking this document, please use our website to ensure that you have the most up-to-date information. A change log is provided at the end of this document.

OBSERVANCE OF RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

Georgia College & State University values the religious diversity of our students. Lists and descriptions of major religious holidays are included on this and other interfaith calendars.

Students are permitted to miss class in observance of religious holidays and other activities observed by a religious group of which the student is a member without academic penalty. Students who will miss class in observance of a religious holiday or event are required to notify each instructor in writing within the first week of class of the semester in which the observance occurs and to make up the coursework missed as a result of the absence.

Additional information and a faculty notification form are available in the Undergraduate and Graduate Academic Catalogs; the Georgia College & State University Policy, Procedures, and Practices Manual; and on the Registrar's Office web site.

BOBCATS FIRST DAY AND RESEARCH DAY

The university has designated two days for the campus community to engage in signature aspects of the GCSU experience. On Bobcats FIRST Day (Tuesday, March 2), regular class time will be redirected to activities connected with the Bobcats FIRST initiative. Research Day (Wednesday, April 21) will showcase research and creative works completed by undergraduate and graduate students in all academic programs. Student and faculty participation is expected on both days. Additional information will be provided in advance via campus email and Frontpage.

The insertion of these two days on the academic calendar does not effect total instruction time. Internships, clinicals, and similar off-campus experiences can continue without disruption and are at the discretion of the instructor. Both days are important components of our academic calendar; participation in these events should be included in course activities for the Spring semester.
