The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is the governing body of seven men's fraternities at Georgia College & State University.

IFC is dedicated to demonstrating to its member organizations and the GCSU campus what it means to be a fraternity man at GCSU: ambitious, professional, committed, active, engaged, philanthropic, and scholarly.

The IFC Executive Board is a passionate group of leaders who disaffiliate from their fraternities for an academic year to support and advocate for the development of every gentleman within the fraternal system.

IFC's Purpose

To lead their community through a shared value system they believe to be beneficial for the entire fraternity community. The IFC focuses on the providing a governance structure for its member organizations and promotes and advocates for the interests of its members organizations. Additionally, the IFC promotes unity and cooperation between member organizations, fellow governing councils, student organizations, and the local community.
