

SGA Academic Appeals Policy

If a student feels that there has been extenuating or mitigating circumstances that resulted in them not being able to meet the GPA requirement for SGA, he/she can appeal this requirement by submitting in writing or via email a letter explaining his/her extenuating or mitigating circumstance to the Dean of Students to set up an appeal's hearing.

Situations that may be considered in an appeal include, but are not limited to:

- Hospitalization or illness
- Documented disability
- Death of an immediate family member

The student has until the day that applications for SGA are due or a week within notification of their GPA not meeting the requirement to submit an appeal. During his/her appeal's meeting, the student must also state how the issues have been corrected or list the steps they are currently taking to ensure the circumstances do not reoccur.

If a student is elected or appointed as a member of SGA, they will be expected to meet with the Appeals Committee for reassessment at the start of the next semester to determine placement.
